

CHAPTER LXXIII.

An ACT for the relief of Clement Biddle.

WHEREAS it appears to the legislature that Clement Biddle, late quarter-master-general and commissary of military stores of this commonwealth, did at various periods of the late Indian war receive and employ for the public service large sums of money, amounting to more than two hundred thousand dollars, all which have been satisfactorily accounted for and adjusted, except a balance of seven hundred and three dollars and forty cents; And whereas, it is alleged that this sum was faithfully paid to a certain major M'Cully, then stationed at Pittsburg, for the purchase of rifles for the army, but owing to the removal of the said major M'Cully out of this* state, and his death soon afterwards the vouchers could not be obtained according to the strict forms at the treasury; but as it is just and reasonable that the commonwealth should not take advantage of a defect of form, if the monies were really expended in public service; Therefore,

SECT. I. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the auditor-general and treasurer of this commonwealth be, and they are hereby authorized to settle the accounts of the said Clement Biddle for the said balance, as to them may seem equitable and proper, which settlement shall be deemed valid and conclusive, any law, usage or custom, to the contrary notwithstanding.

Accountant officers authorized to adjust the accounts of Clement Biddle.

JOHN WEBER, Speaker
of the House of Representatives.

P. C. LANE, Speaker of the Senate.

APPROVED—the twentieth day of March, one thousand eight hundred and eleven.

SIMON SNYDER.
