

No. 12.

RESOLUTION

For the relief of Jacob Huggins of Perry county.

WHEREAS, Jacob Huggins, of the county of Perry, represents that he has sustained damage by the construction of the Pennsylvania canal through his land, which was not ascertained until the water was let into the same: And whereas, Under the act of ninth of April, one thousand eight hundred and twenty-seven, an impression prevailed that the limitation contained in the eighth section, required that application should be made within one year after the completion of the work, on that part of the canal which runs through the land of the applicant, and under that impression the said Jacob Huggins did make application for viewers under that act, to the court of Quarter Sessions of said county, which court appointed viewers who viewed his premises before the water was let into the canal, and before the damage sustained by him had been ascertained, and decided against him; and it is but right that the Commonwealth should do justice to every citizen: Therefore,

Preamble.

Resolved, by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in General Assembly met, That the board of canal commissioners, and the board of appraisers of canal damages, be and they are hereby authorized and required to entertain jurisdiction under the sixth section of the act of the sixth April, one thousand eight hundred and thirty, of the case of Jacob Huggins, of Perry county, for damages done to his property in said county, by the construction of the Pennsylvania canal, as fully and effectually as if nothing had ever been done in said case.
