AN ACT

To attach a Law School to the Lock Haven Academy, in the county of Clinton.

Law school.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That it shall be lawful for the trustees of the Lock Haven academy, in the county of Clinton, to attach to said institution a law school or department, under the name of the Lock Haven Law School, for the tuition and instruction of students who may desire to study law, and for this purpose the said trustees are hereby authorized to purchase such law books for a law library, for the use of said law department as the may deem necessary.

Employment of professor or teacher.

SECTION 2. That the said trustees are authorized to appoint and employ a professor or teacher in said law department, and to determine the salary or pay of such professor or teacher; the said law school to be located in the borough of Lock Haven, and to be under the supervision of said trustees, and the same to be kept open and continued during the sessions of said academy, and the said trustees shall determine the rates of tuition of students in said law school, and the said professor shall have power and authority to give and grant such diplomas or certificates to students taught in said law school, under the seal of the said academy, as are usually granted in other law schools, and which may authenticate and perpetuate the memory of the graduation of any students who may be taught therein.

Students may be admitted to practice.

SECTION 3. That it shall be lawful for the courts of the county of Clinton, or any of the courts of this Commonwealth other than the Supreme court, to admit to practice in said courts any students of said law school, who shall have studied therein for a period of two years upon certificate of said professor or teacher of such study, and upon the said courts being satisfied of the character and qualifications of the applicant, although any such
