

A C T S

OF THE

General Assembly of Pennsylvania.

Passed at a Session which commenced October 14th, 1760, and ended September 26th, 1761.

JAMES HAMILTON, LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR.

1761.

CHAPTER CCCCLVIII.

An ACT to enable the owners and possessors of the northern district of Kingsess meadow land, in the county of Philadelphia, to keep the banks, dams, sluices and flood-gates, in repair, and to raise a fund to defray the expense thereof.

Passed 14th March, 1761.—Private Act.—Recorded A. vol. IV. page 197.

[The subject of this act is fully explained in the title.]

CHAPTER CCCCLXII.

An ACT to enable the owners and possessors of the meadow, at the west side of the mouth of Darby creek, by the river Delaware, in the township of Ridley, in Chester county, to keep the banks, dams, sluices, and flood-gates, in repair for ever, and to raise a fund to defray the expense thereof.

Passed 14th March, 1761.—Private Act.—Recorded A. vol. IV. page 206.

[The title fully explains the subject of this act.]

CHAPTER CCCCLXIII.

An ACT for the preservation of fish in the rivers Delaware, Susquehanna, and the Lehigh, commonly called the Western Branch of Delaware.

WHEREAS it is found by experience, that large quantities of the fry and brood of fish, as well as young fish unfit for use, have