A SUPPLEMENT TO AN ACT ENTITLED "AN ACT TO IMPROVE THE BREED OF HORSES, AND REGULATE RANGERS."<sup>1</sup>

(Section I, P. L.) Whereas the seventh section of an act of the general assembly of Pennsylvania entitled "An act to improve the breed of horses and regulate rangers," requires that horses taken up by the rangers of the respective counties shall be advertised in every county of the state before they may be sold, and the said act having been made at a period in the late province of Pennsylvania when the counties were but few and the settlements not very extensive:

And whereas the present state of population in this state and the extent of the settlements renders it very difficult, ex-
