CHAPTER MMMXXI.

AN ACT DISSOLVING THE MARRIAGE OF JOHN M'CLELLEN AND MARGARET M'CLELLEN, HIS WIFE.

Whereas it appears by the memorial and petition of Margaret M'Clellen, of the city of Philadelphia, that she was lawfully joined in marriage with John M'Clellen, on the seventh day of July, one thousand seven hundred and ninety-six, and lived with said John M'Clellen from that time until the thirty-first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and seven: And whereas it appears the said John possessed a severe, cruel and tyrannical disposition, which at length grew so ungovernable and savage, that he, the said John used the greatest cruelties in beating and otherwise abusing the person of his said wife Margaret M'Clellen: And whereas it appears from the documents accompanying the petition, that Margaret M'Clellen, has always maintained a good and reputable character, and it being just and reasonable that relief should be afforded in such cases: Therefore,
