AN ACT FOR THE RELIEF OF JOHN LAIRD.

Whereas it appears to the legislature of this commonwealth, that John Laird, in the month of August, in the year one thousand seven hundred and seventy-eight, in pursuance of orders given by John Travers, then sub-lieutenant of the county of York, expended the sum of two hundred and eighty pounds, to hire seven able bodied men to march to the Standing Stone, for the defence of the western frontiers of this state, which orders were given to complete the number of men required by an order of the then supreme executive council of this state, dated the fourteenth of July, in the year aforesaid. And whereas it appears that the aforesaid sub-lieutenant soon after became insolvent and insane, and that the said John Laird hath never been reimbursed the aforesaid sum of money. Therefore:
